The powerful V8 engine features removable air tray and has an amazing number of molded parts.

The Chevrolet ZL-1 Camaro was unmistakable painted in bright Hugger Orange (to become known as Bob Jane Racing Orange). In 1972 Bob Jane became back-to-back ATCC champion after fighting an intense championship battle with his toughest opponent Alan Moffat, Jane came out as champion once again, winning four races, finishing second twice, third once, and with just one DNF from the eight rounds. The consecutive titles were an historic moment in Australian Motor Sport. In 73' 'group E' rules changed, stating 25 units or more must exist in Australia, instantly ruling out the Camaro, being only one of two in existence.

Chassis has working suspension. A press button on the chassis is also included to open the bonnet.

Detailed engine that looks just as good as the original. Note emission control equipment.

The HX was introduced in July 1976 and was basically a cosmetic upgrade on the HJ, although one major reason for the release of the HX was the introduction of new anti-pollution requirements, Australian Design Rule 27a, to lower exhaust emissions. But the addition of emission control equipment without any re-design of the basic engine saw reductions in both fuel efficiency and power output. The cosmetic changes included a much better grille treatment, bright colours, large GTS decals, colour-keyed bumpers, integrated spoiler options and optional bonnet black-out made it the most distinctive of all four door Monaros.

HOLDEN LJ XU-1 TORANA 1972 BATHURST WINNER

50TH ANNIVERSARY GOLD LIVERY

SCHEDULED PRODUCTION OF 1000 PIECES WORLDWIDE

Peter Brock's first Bathurst crown came in the 1972 Hardie-Ferodo 500. This was the last race to be held over the original distance of 500 miles and the last year drivers were able to race without a co-driver.

Holden had its 3.3 litre LJ XU-1 Torana that was powered by a giant killing 202 cubic inch (3310cc) inline-six, by now well developed and regarded as favourite to win the race.

Peter Brock qualified in 4th position on the grid for the Great Race and on race day it was pouring with rain and the start was an incredible sight.

Despite the dramas that ensued as a result of the inclement weather, Peter Brock cruised to an astounding victory in his Holden Dealer Team LJ XU-1 Torana, by the huge margin of five laps.

Brock's car ran without trouble all day over the 130 lap race distance and he thoroughly deserved his win after a gruelling 6hrs 1min 53secs behind the wheel, without a break and the assistance of a co-driver.

Classic Carlectables are proud to present a special Gold Livery Edition of the Holden LJ XU-1 Torana 1972 Bathurst Winner to celebrate the 50th Anniversary of this historic victory.

FREIGHT SEMI

With the construction of multi-lane highways, single trailer transport has become one of the most practical ways to transport goods. Able to travel directly from point to point, Railways could not compete with the speed and versatility of the SemiTrailer. Most freight semi's were classed as a day cab. Day cabs were mainly used for their speed and their manoeuvrability in smaller spaces.

This exceptionally crafted model includes all the features you would expect from larger scales, including a comprehensive interior, flexible air hoses, soft rubber tyres and detailed chassis.
